

Awakening

I took my meds and tried to sleep.
I closed my eyes and enjoyed the trip! Oh, oh ...
So I went louder into deep!
I come alone, there's nothing to keep me home ...
Calling my name,
There's no one to hear me thus,
I'll still be the same,
Still be running into dust!
Looking for the one,
Just waiting for a sign,
Till the end of time!
Assuming there is one!
Assuming I have time ...

So, certain things don't ever change.
And through my eyes, it used to look so strange.
So, sometimes things come to an end.
Under the moonlight, there's nothing to pretend.
Standing out there,
Trying to understand myself.
Where I come from,
There's no room for any rest.
Shall I need some time,
'Cos so far I'm still blind.
Where's my sign?
I really do need one!
I thought you were this one ...

I really do need one!
    Looking for a sign!
I'm looking for the one!
    Till the end of time!
'Cos so far I'm still blind!
    Shadow never lies!
I'm begging for a sign!
    Will it comes tonight?
And when the dream comes true,
Just like you,
In my entire life!
I've never been so sad!

Sad for you, and heart hurts too ...
